

THE GATE WAY
GLADESVILLE

The project is designed by — Brooks projects architects —

which is widely recognized as a highly innovative architectural practice with over 30 years of experience in the Sydney market.

Brooks projects architects is headed by principal architect and managing director Peter Brooks.

It is a multi-disciplinary mid-sized practice with design flexibility that enables the office to initiate dynamic solutions in short time frames.

Brooks projects architects has designed a wide range of projects, from single residential projects to medium density housing to apartments to high rises; from socially driven community to green-star awarded buildings.

The gateway Gladesville Development was designed personally by Peter Brooks the managing director of the firm and was given the attention needed for such a project to maximize the views of either the city sky lines and Harbor Bridge on one end or the bay and district views on the other.

MESSAGE FROM THE DEVELOPER

With 20 years experience in Sydney market we draw inspiration from north to south and east to west to create aspirational lifestyle environments that set new benchmarks in meeting the changing needs of the modern human and suits the different tastes of the diversified Sydney culture.

First and foremost we are selective in locating our projects, investing only in desirable suburbs with proximity to key growth drivers such as population, infrastructure and employment.

From here we deliver buildings that are carefully designed and constructed to meet the specific needs of the occupier, whether they are an owner or a tenant and maximize the returns of the investors. It is this fastidious attention to detail that drives desirability and therefore strong long term value growth for our clients.

The gateway Gladesville Development was handpicked by the developer because of its location and proximity to shops, schools, restaurants but most importantly the magnificent views which the development would offer.

THE GATE WAY
GLADESVILLE

The building is designed to maximise the views, natural ventilation and light with access to quite leafy Pearson street. You will be spoilt by choice between garden apartments with court yards to penthouse style ones maximising the gorgeous views of one of Australia's best icons and natural beauty. Whichever apartment you choose, each is the ideal of modern, luxurious living: spacious, elegant and beautiful to live in.
